Hinchliffe's Farm Shop and The Old Farmhouse Restaurant

Dear Valued Customer,

No doubt you have by now heard the awful news of the fire which began in our butchery department and went on to destroy the entire farm shop and restaurant, as well as our storerooms and offices.

Hinchliffe's is a family business which was started in 1929 by my father Alan and is still run today by myself, my daughter, son-in-law and grandsons. Whilst we may no longer have a building to trade from in the short term, we continue to value our most prized asset, which is our reputation for excellent service and superb quality produce fresh from our own farms.

We are working closely with the relevant authorities in order to obtain swift approval to erect a temporary building as quickly as possible, so we will be able to resume service to you as quickly as possible. We hope to have some good news for you very soon.

We are pleased to announce we are now selling Hinchliffe's meat again from our temporary farm shop at the back of the farm. Please come down and support us! (6th Sept 2010)

Remember, we do not supply any other farm shops or butchers with our meat so if it's not from Netherton, we didn't rear or produce it, then it cannot be called Hinchliffe's produce!

My family and I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for the amazing messages of support we have received over these past four weeks. It's great to know that you are missing the farm shop as much as we are.

We will do our best to reopen shortly from our home here at Netherton and look forward to welcoming you all back through our doors as soon as possible.

Kindest regards,

Charlie Hinchliffe & Family
